Preface      xiii

Chapter 1

---

Introduction      1

Quantitative versus Qualitative Schools of Thought	3
Use of Triangulation in Research Methodology	5
Qualitative Strategies: Defining an Orientation	8
From a Symbolic Interactionist Perspective	9
Why Use Qualitative Methods?	14
A Plan of Presentation	15
References	17

Chapter 2

---

Designing Qualitative Research      19

Theory and Concepts	19
Ideas and Theory	22
Reviewing the Literature	26
Evaluating Web Sites 28 • Content versus Use 31
Trying It Out	36
Theory, Reality, and the Social World	36
Framing Research Problems	38
Operationalization and Conceptualization	38
Designing Projects	41
Concept Mapping 43 • Creating a Concept Map 46 •
Setting and Population Appropriateness 47 • Sampling
Strategies 50

Data Collection and Organization	53
Data Storage, Retrieval, and Analysis	55
Dissemination	57
Trying It Out	57
References	57

Chapter 3

---

Ethical Issues 61

Research Ethics in Historical Perspective	62
From Guidelines to Law: Regulations on the Research Process	68
Institutional Review Boards (IRBs)	70
IRBs and Their Duties 70 • Clarifying the Role of IRBs 74 • Active versus Passive Consent 76 • Active versus Passive Consent in Internet Research 78 • Membership Criteria for IRBs 79
Ethical Codes	80
Some Common Ethical Concerns in Behavioral Research	80
Covert versus Overt Researcher Roles 83
New Areas for Ethical Concern: Cyberspace	87
Protection for Children 88 • Debriefing the Subjects 89
Informed Consent and Implied Consent	90
Confidentiality and Anonymity	93
Keeping Identifying Records 94 • Strategies for Safeguarding Confidentiality 94
Securing the Data	95
Objectivity and Careful Research Design	96
Trying It Out	98
References	99

Chapter 4

A Dramaturgical Look at Interviewing 105

Dramaturgy and Interviewing	106
Types of Interviews	108

The Standardized Interview	108	•	The Unstandardized Interview	110	•	The Semistandardized Interview	112
The Data Collection Instrument	115
Guideline Development	116
Question Order (Sequencing), Content, and Style	118
Communicating Effectively	123
A Few Common Problems in Question Formulation	124
Affectively Worded Questions	124	•	The Double-Barreled Question	125	•	Complex Questions	126
Pretesting the Schedule	126
Long versus Short Interviews	127
Telephone Interviews	129
Advantages of the Telephone Interview	130	•	Disadvantages of the Telephone Interview	130
Computer Assisted Interviewing	131
Computer Assisted Telephone Interviewing (CATI)	131	•
Computer Assisted Personal Interviewing (CAPI)	132	•
Web- and Email-Based In-Depth Interviews	133
Trying It Out	134
Conducting an Interview: A Natural or an Unnatural Communication?	135
The Dramaturgical Interview	136
Interviewer Roles and Rapport	137	•	The Role of the Interviewee	139	•	The Interviewer as a Self-Conscious Performer	140
Social Interpretations and the Interviewer	141
The Interviewer's Repertoire	144
Interviewers' Attitudes and Persuading a Subject	146	•
Developing an Interviewer Repertoire	147	•	Techniques to Get New Researchers Started	148	•	Taking the Show on the Road	150
The Ten Commandments of Interviewing	150
Know Your Audience	152
Curtain Calls	153	•
Analyzing Data Obtained from the Dramaturgical Interview	153
Beginning an Analysis	154	•	Systematic Filing Systems	154	•	Short-Answer Sheets	156
Analysis Procedures: A Concluding Remark	157

Trying It Out	157
Notes	159

Chapter 5

Focus Group Interviewing 164

What are Focus Groups?	164
Working With a Group	165
Some Problems to Avoid in Focus Group Interviewing 167
The Evolution of Focus Group Interviews	170
Advantages and Disadvantages of Focus Group Interviewing 172 • Focus Group Interviewing and Face-to-Face Interviewing 173 • Focus Group Interviewing and Participant Observation 175 • Focus Group Interviewing and Unobtrusive Measures 176
Facilitating Focus Group Dynamics: How Focus Groups Work	179
The Moderator's Guide	179
Introduction and Introductory Activities 179 • Statement of the Basic Rules or Guidelines for the Interview 180 • Short Question-and-Answer Discussions 180 • Special Activities or Exercises 181 • Guidance for Dealing with Sensitive Issues 181
Basic Ingredients in Focus Groups	182
Analyzing Focus Group Data	187
Confidentiality and Focus Group Interviews	189
Recent Trends in Focus Groups: Online Focus Groups	190
Conclusion	192
Trying It Out	192
Notes	193
References	193

Chapter 6

Ethnographic Field Strategies 196

Accessing a Field Setting: Getting In	200
Reflectivity and Ethnography	205

Critical Ethnography	206
The Attitude of the Ethnographer	207 • The Researcher's Voice 208 • Gaining Entry 213
Becoming Invisible	217
Dangers of Invisibility	218
Other Dangers During Ethnographic Research	221
Trying It Out	223
Watching, Listening, and Learning	223
How to Learn: What to Watch and Listen For	226 • Field Notes 229
Computers and Ethnography	238
Online Ethnography	238
Analyzing Ethnographic Data	240
Other Analysis Strategies: Typologies, Sociograms, and Metaphors	242
Typologies 242 • Sociograms 244 • Metaphors 248
Disengaging: Getting Out	249
Trying It Out	250
References	251

Chapter 7

Action Research 258

The Basics of Action Research	263
Identifying the Research Question(s)	265
Gathering the Information to Answer the Question(s)	266
Analyzing and Interpreting the Information	266
Procedures for Using Interview and Ethnographic Data	267 • Guiding Questions of Analysis: Why, What, How, Who, Where, When? 267 • Descriptive Accounts and Reports 267
Sharing the Results with the Participants	268
When to Use and When Not to Use Action Research	269
The Action Researcher's Role	270
Types of Action Research	270
Technical/Scientific/Collaborative Mode	271 • A Practical/Mutual Collaborative/Deliberate Mode 271 • Emancipating or Empowering/Enhancing/Critical Science Mode 272

Photovoice and Action Research	273
The Goals in Photovoice	274
Action Research: A Reiteration	275
Trying It Out	276
References	277

Chapter 8

---

Unobtrusive Measures in Research 280

Archival Strategies	283
Public Archives 283 • Private Archives: Solicited     and Unsolicited Documents 292 • A Last Remark about     Archival Records 296
Physical Erosion and accretion: Human Traces as Data Sources	296
Erosion Measures 296 • Accretion Measures 298 • Some Final     Remarks about Physical Traces 298
Trying It Out	299
References	300

Chapter 9

---

Social Historical Research and Oral Traditions 304

What is Historical Research?	304
Life Histories and Social History	308
What are the Sources of Data for Historical Researchers?	309
Doing Historiography: Tracing Written History as Data	310
External Criticism 312 • Internal Criticism 315
What are Oral Histories?	317
Trying It Out	321
References	321

Chapter 10

Case Studies 325

- The Nature of Case Studies 325
- Theory and Case Studies 328
- The Individual Case Study 330
  - The Use of Interview Data 331 • The Use of Personal Documents 333*
- Intrinsic, Instrumental, and Collective Case Studies 335
- Case Study Design Types 337
  - Exploratory Case Studies 337 • Explanatory Case Studies 337 • Descriptive Case Studies 338 • Designing Case Studies 338*
- The Scientific Benefit of Case Studies 339
  - Objectivity and the Case Method 340 • Generalizability 341*
- Case Studies of Organizations 342
- Case Studies of Communities 343
  - Data Collection for Community Case Studies 344 • Community Groups and Interests 344*
- Trying It Out 346
- References 346

Chapter 11

An Introduction to Content Analysis 349

- What is Content Analysis? 349
- Analysis of Qualitative Data 350
  - Interpretative Approaches 350 • Social Anthropological Approaches 351 • Collaborative Social Research Approaches 351*
- Content Analysis as a Technique 353
- Content Analysis: Quantitative or Qualitative? 354
  - Manifest versus Latent Content Analysis 355*
- Communication Components 356
- What to Count: Levels and Units of Analysis 357
- Category Development: Building Grounded Theory 358

What to Count	359	•	Combinations of Elements	360	•	Units and Categories	361	•	Classes and Categories	362
Discourse Analysis and Content Analysis	363
Open Coding	364
Coding Frames	367
A Few More Words on Analytic Induction	369	•	Interrogative Hypothesis Testing	370
Stages in the Content Analysis Process	373
Strengths and Weaknesses of the Content Analysis Process	375
Computers and Qualitative Analysis	376
Word Processors	378	•	Text Retrievers	378	•	Textbase Managers	378	•	Code-and-Retrieve Programs	379
Code-Based Theory Builders	379	•	Conceptual Network Builders	379
Qualitative Research at the Speed of Light	380
Trying It Out	381
References	382

Chapter 12

Writing Research Papers: Sorting the Noodles from the Soup 386

Plagiarism: What It Is, Why It's Bad, and How to Avoid It	387
Why Plagiarism Occurs	387
How to Avoid Plagiarism	388
Identifying the Purpose of the Writing: Arranging the Noodles	390
Delineating a Supportive Structure: Visual Signals for the Reader	391
The Title	394
The Abstract	395
Trying It Out	396
The Introduction	397
Literature Review	397
Methodology	400
Findings or Results	402
Discussion/Conclusion	403
References, Notes, and Appendices	404
Terms and Conditions	408
Presenting Research Material	409
Disseminating the Research: Professional Meetings and Publications	409
A Word About the Content of Papers and Articles	414

Write It, Rewrite It, Then Write It Again!	414
A Few Writing Hints	416
A Final Note	418
Notes	419
References	419
